BOE Report
January 9, 2018
Megan Paliotti, Director of Special Education

State Reporting- Verification reports for Special Education data were due to be verified this week. This was completed and the data was certified as accurate.

Professional Development- I attended a Part 154 training to ensure that I have the most recent information regarding services our English Language Learners. There is a new version of the test used to identify English Language Learners which is more closely aligned to the Achievement test given each Spring to these students. Our principals have ordered the new tests and they will be administered by our certified TESOL as new students enter.

Trauma, Illness and Grief Consortium-On January 4th, the psychologists and myself attended our first training in a series to enable us to become part of the TIG Consortium. This consortium allows us to be a support and to get support from other districts when tragedies happen in the district. This consortium also gives us access to the Office of Mental Health in Monroe County.

Leverage Leadership- Visits and meetings continue.
