

FROM LEARNING FAIR COORDINATOR...

Norlyn Legler

The third marking period has just begun at W.H.S. This gives each student the opportunity to bring forth their knowledge and creativity to be displayed by completing a project for the second annual Learning Fair from 1:00 p.m-4:00 p.m., on Saturday, March 10th. It will be a great chance for all parents and community members to see first hand the talent and knowledge that exists in and among all three school levels at Williamson.

Projects from the high school traditionally have been representations from foreign language, English, technology, math and science. By inviting students to work on this type of project from their interest subject area, we are encouraging everyone to meet one of the requirements of the current New York State Learning Standards.

In regards to meeting the Learning Standard requirement, we are targeting 10th grade as the time to complete this project. The Learning Standard for math, science, and technology (MST) is inclusive of a provision to complete a project that integrates the learning in these three areas. Students will be able to complete a part of their curriculum area and participate in the ribbon awarding Learning Fair.

Again, this is a chance to be creative and have fun while you are studying! Encourage your son or daughter to take part in the Learning Fair, March 10th.☐

Evaluating Web Resources

There is an enormous amount of information—some worthwhile and some not so worthwhile—on the Web. You need to evaluate what's out there! One of the first steps is to determine the extension domain that provides information about the authority and perhaps even the bias of the source. The following is a current list of the top-level domains on the Internet:

.com	commercial entity
.edu	educational institution
.gov	government agency or department
.mil	military organization
.net	network resource
.org	other type of organization, usually not-for-profit
.firm	businesses
.store	online stores
.web	Web-related organizations
.arts	cultural and entertainment organizations
.rec	organizations emphasizing recreational activities
.info	organizations that provide information
.nom	individuals who want to be identified as such

January 18 2001

Dear President of the Class of 2001

This letter is to share information with you and the Class of 2001 about Rotary Camp Onseyawa. I would like to offer an opportunity to your fellow classmates to gain some "hands on" experience that may be helpful to them if they have plans to enter a field of study working with children.

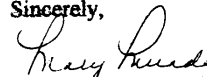

Camp Onseyawa, sponsored by the Rotary clubs in Ontario, Seneca, Yates and Wayne counties, is a residential camp program for 9 - 16 year old children with disabilities. Located at Boy Scout Camp Babcock Hovey in Ovid, NY, Camp Onseyawa began over 40 years ago providing a "typical" camping experience to individuals who normally would not get the chance to go camping. Boating, swimming, handicrafts, musical performance, archery, ceramics, outdoor cooking and sleeping in a tent are just a few of the activities our campers have an opportunity to participate in at camp.

Each year it is a challenge to find individuals who are interested in working with our campers. We are looking for junior counselors (17 years old), counselors (18+ years old) and lifeguards (17+ years old) who are interested in gaining experience working with children with disabilities. For many of our past and current staff members their experience at camp has helped them make career decisions and assisted with their college studies.

This year our camp session is August 11th-25th. This includes our orientation and clean-up session. We do accept applications from people who are only able to work part time. Please feel free to make copies of the brochure and/or application which I have enclosed. If anyone has any questions they can reach me at the number listed below.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

Mary Mundy-Director
