Connecting to our Network Servers from Home with your Laptop
Road Runner/DSL Version 1.1

Use these directions if you have Road Runner or another DSL connection and you wish to connect to our servers from home.

Connecting to the network:

- Connect your computer to your cable modem with an Ethernet cable or if you purchase a wireless access point/wireless router you can be wireless at home too! Do not purchase a wireless card for you laptop—it already has one built in!

- Double click the Terminal Services Icon

- Where is says server, type in: 209.68.64.68 (Please note the three periods are necessary and there are no spaces.)

- Click connect

- Choose the appropriate building (HS, MS, etc.) you will need to login again here. And one more time into the terminal server.

Remember, with this connection you are working another computer remotely. Remember to log off when you are done.
