Thinkwave

www.thinkwave.com provides class teacher announcements and assigned grades. You can check out your youth's grade. The following things can be identified: Assignments which were not turned in, work quality, your student's attendance. This resource also allows you to leave messages for me. I attempt to update the site each weekend.

I do not put assignments or lesson plans in advance on this source. This site is only used for grading, attendance and communication. Please note, this site is not instantaneous. I only update once a week on this resource. If you have a message you'd like an immediate reply to please telephone me, e-mail me to my normal account hrothfuss@nrwcs.org or leave a written message in my school mailbox.

Your youth has received their own personal start keys and we've initiated him/her to the program. Enclosed is the parents' personal code. This allows you as the parent to access your youth's grade information whenever you access the site. The parents' code is different from the student's code. Please remember this site is used solely for attendance, grades and comments. Lesson plans and upcoming homework are not posted here.
