Ambition Response

Directions: Consider this question, what are you most ambitious about? In other words, what do you want most in your life? It could be the pursuit of a long-term goal such as a profession, or it could be something more immediate, like a shiny new ipod. After you've thought about what it is that you want most in your life, consider what you're willing to do to get it. Will the pursuit of this goal/object require any type of sacrifice? Without being inappropriate (we are in school, after all), I want you to write about these two things.

Your Task: Write a one paragraph response (total – not one paragraph for each question – unless you're inspired to do so) to the following questions:

- What do you want most in your life? (now or in the future)
- What are you willing to do to achieve this goal/attain this object?
- If the pursuit of this goal/object will require sacrifice of any sort, explain what this sacrifice would entail (i.e. racking up piles of debt because of the necessity to be in college for many years).

REMINDER: This is a school assignment, therefore, I expect you to be appropriate in your explanations. If you are not, you will be subject to the school's disciplinary code and will receive a zero on this assignment.
